Tesla Superchargers

Arlington is home to Tesla’s first urban Supercharger station in the Dallas-Fort Worth area. The station, which opened recently at the Arlington Convention Center, has 10 Superchargers available 24 hours a day.

The station, built by the City in partnership with Tesla, is an example of Arlington’s commitment to innovative transportation technology. The station is conveniently located off I-30 to serve citizens as well as visitors to the Entertainment District. The Arlington station fills a critical gap in the DFW region, forming a network of chargers across the country.

Milo Autonomous Shuttle Program Launches!

On August 11, the City showcased Milo, a free autonomous shuttle service at a media preview event, where Arlington City Council members, Texas Rangers leadership and manager Jeff Banister, City of Arlington Transportation Advisory Committee members, city officials and local journalists took turns riding the bright red shuttle along the scenic path bordering Johnson Creek. The shuttles, which are wheelchair accessible, can hold up to 12 passengers and will drive at speeds averaging 10 to 12 miles per hour. A one-way trip takes about 13 minutes to complete from pick up to drop off.

Fans attending the Dallas Cowboys pre-season home game on Saturday, August 26, will be among the first to ride a Milo shuttle as part of the City’s innovative transportation pilot program. Starting August 26, the Milo shuttles will run approximately one hour before and one hour after major events at AT&T Stadium and Globe Life Park in Arlington. The shuttles are programmed to run along select off-street trails in Richard Greene Linear Park and Robert Cluck Linear Park between the two venues and will pick up and drop off passengers at designated stops.

Highlights

The City is leasing two of these self-driving, electric vehicles from EasyMile, a company based in France, as part of a one-year pilot program to explore autonomous transportation technology in a real-world setting, making Arlington the first municipal government in the United States to offer ongoing autonomous shuttle service to the general public.

“The experts are saying every day there is something new being invented in transportation. It’s a great opportunity for us to do these pilot projects, for us to actually test them in our community and for our citizens to be able to look at them and see if they work here and what their opinion of it is,” Arlington Mayor Jeff Williams said.

Signs along the route instruct walkers, joggers and others sharing the concrete path to keep their distance from the moving shuttles. But even if someone or something were to stray into a Milo’s path, the vehicles are outfitted with numerous safety features that help it avoid bumping into bikes, pedestrians or obstacles on the trails. Read more about Milo at www.arlington-tx.gov/milo.

Milo isn’t Arlington’s only transportation initiative. As part of its Smart Cities initiative, the Arlington Public Works and Transportation is participating in two pilot programs designed to make the traffic signal network more efficient and also to let drivers know through a smart phone app how fast they should be going to avoid red lights. The City is also requesting proposals from companies that could operate a demand response rideshare program. The one-year Rideshare Pilot Project is expected to start later this fall.

Updates

Transportation Advisory Committee Nears Recommendations

The City of Arlington Transportation Advisory Committee (TAC) is wrapping up its year-long process and will make recommendations to the City Council in September 2017. The 31 TAC members were appointed by City Council in September 2016, and the Committee has met monthly in order to develop a strategic framework for future transportation decisions for the City. The TAC meetings have included presentations from transportation experts, discussions about the needs of City residents and visitors, and determinations regarding the locations and types of transportation modes most appropriate for the City. The Committee's final meeting will be held September 7, 2017, and the TAC recommendations will be presented to City Council at their meeting on September 26, 2017. The recommendations are expected to include guiding principles for transportation planning, potential modes for both mid-term and long-term solutions, and policy-making direction. TAC meetings are open to the public and include time for public comment. More information can be found at the TAC website: www.arlingtontx.gov/tac.

I-30/SH 360 Interchange

Work continues to move forward on modernizing the I-30/SH 360 interchange. Significant portions of the new SH 360 southbound frontage bridge are now complete, and the bridge is expected to be open to traffic by the end of 2017. Piers are being constructed to support the connecting ramps needed to create the fully-directional interchange. Construction on the overall project is scheduled for completion in 2020.

SH 360 South Project

Construction on the $340 million SH 360 South project is on track for completion in spring 2018. Several new bridges are opening in summer 2017, including the Webb Lynn Road/Lynn Creek Parkway bridge, the Broad Street bridge, the Debbie Lane/Ragland Road bridge, and the Heritage Parkway bridge. US 287 main lanes will go over the new SH 360 frontage road, meaning drivers on US 287 will no longer have a traffic signal at the SH 360 intersection. New frontage roads on US 287 will allow traffic from SH 360 to safely enter the highway. Overall, the project will improve mobility throughout the rapidly developing corridor in addition to improving traffic flow for local businesses and residents along the SH 360 frontage roads.

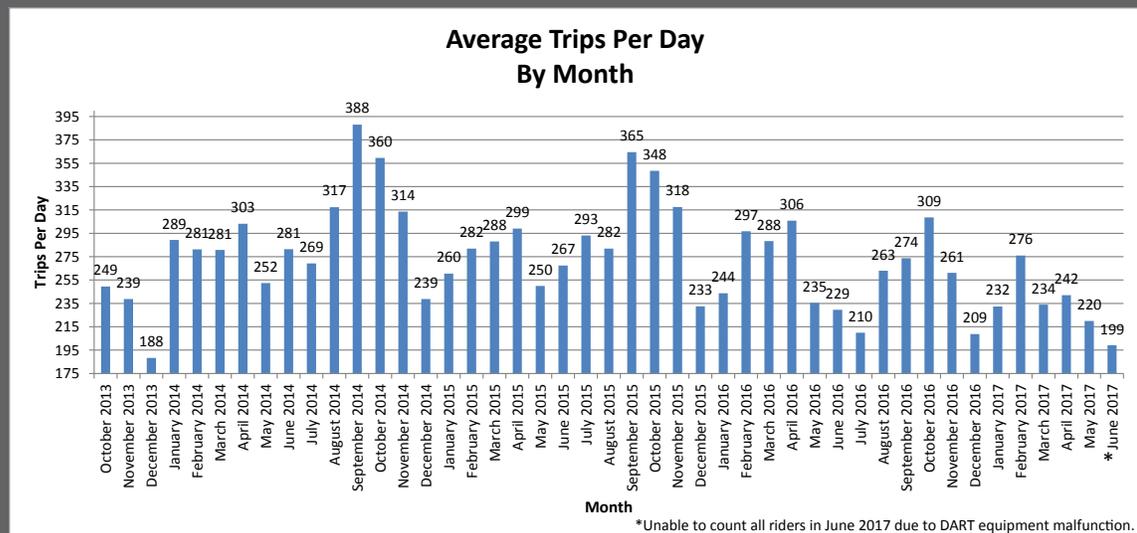

By The Numbers: Transportation

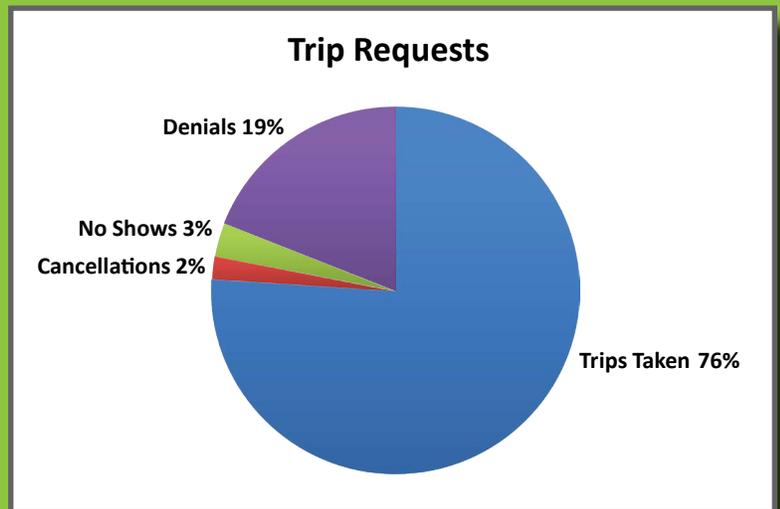

MAX Update

The MAX bus service, now in its fourth year of service, saw a decline in ridership this past quarter. The City continues to gather feedback both online and onboard the buses. Passengers enjoy the alternative commute option and the mobility provided by MAX.

Handitran Update

In the third quarter of FY2017, Handitran continued to be a high-demand service for Arlington residents. The total number of trips provided was up from last quarter, with only 19% of trip requests being denied. Of the trips received, 42% were provided by Handitran buses, and 58% were provided by partner taxi services, with 97% on-time delivery overall. Subscription trips again increased slightly, to 17%, with 83% demand trips. Connections to the TRE and FWTA stations also increased this quarter, with 274 trips provided to these facilities.

Total Requests in Q3: 36,241
 Total Trips in Q3: 27,424
 On-time Delivery Percentage: 97%
